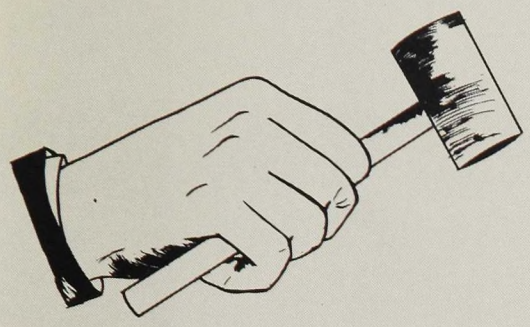
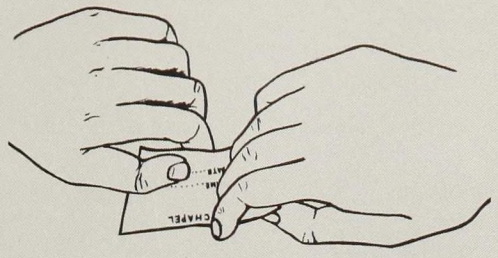
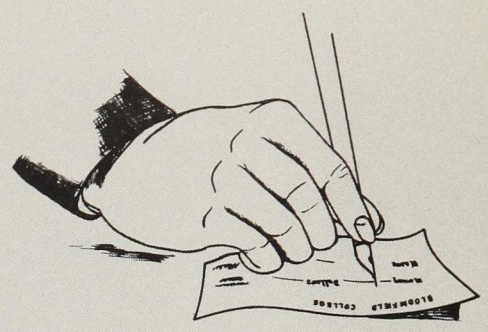
The Spirit Of Hands







FOREWORD

The hand outstretched to welcome you, the hand with the chalk to instruct you, the hand on your shoulder to encourage you . . . you see many hands in your years at Bloomfield College.

There are hands you are seldom aware of which also affect your lives . . . hands that direct the growth of the school, hands that present gifts to the college, hands that each day keep things running smoothly.

In the last four years these hands worked together with such dedication, efficiency and purpose that Bloomfield College began to emerge from the shadow of the seminary and to grow into an accredited liberal arts college.

This book, the product of many hands, has as its theme a salute to the Hands of Spirit.

In Dedication

His hands were never still; they expressed, through a handshake or a motion of encouragement, something of the man's great warmth.

They were efficient hands, accomplishing what others dream of doing. They were hands that gave impetus to the growth of a new spirit on our campus.

Not only the members of the class of 1963, but the entire student body at Bloomfield College, owe him much. Thus, we are honored to dedicate our yearbook to the memory of Dr. Lester H. Clee. We do this with the hope that, in some measure, we may continue the work he began and that, in so doing, we may keep alive the vital spirit he engendered.

President's Message

The official seal of our school carries in Greek the verse from the Gospel of John, "in order that the world may believe." (17:21)

When this seal was created there was a sense of purpose in the education offered at Bloomfield which I hope we never surrender.

Truth is a gift from God to those who give themselves fully to listening, to studying, to healing and to going. If you have learned that God is the measure and source of all things rather than man, then share your faith "in order that the world may believe." This is the mark and seal of a Bloomfield graduate.

The hand of the class of 1963, the first to be caught in the new spirit of Bloomfield—a lending hand, to promote this spirit; a busy hand, to develope the college ideals; a working hand, to initiate and build—is now outstretched in its final gesture; to receive, with pride, its diploma.

LUX IN TENEBRIS

ALMA MATER

Lux in tenebris, Alma Mater,
Built upon the rock eternal,
Fountain rock of living water,
Kindled by the Light supernal,
With unceasing power increasing,
Shed abroad thy radiant light.
Lux in tenebris, Alma Mater,
Lux in tenebris, luce.

Lux in tenebris, Alma Mater,
May thy light be never dimmed,
Watch thou therefore Zion's daughter,
Keep thy lamp well oiled and trimmed,
While light giving Light receiving,
From the Fountain head of light.
Lux in tenebris, Alma Mater,
Lux in tenebris, luce.

Lux in tenebris, Alma Mater,
Into darkness light to carry,
Send thy sons over land and water,
Each a living luminary.
Self-consuming while illuming,
Those that have not seen the light.
Lux in tenebris, Alma Mater,
Lux in tenebris, luce.

Lux in tenebris, Luminary,
Glory full of truth and grace,
Let the world perceive Thy glory,
And behold Thee face to face.
Apprehending, Comprehending,
Jesus, Saviour Light of Light.
Lux in tenebris, Alma Mater,
Lux in tenebris, luce.

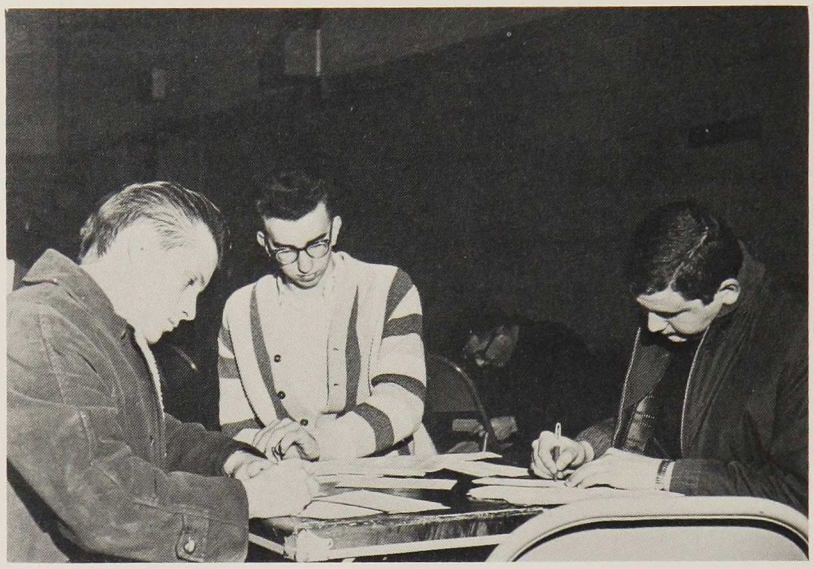
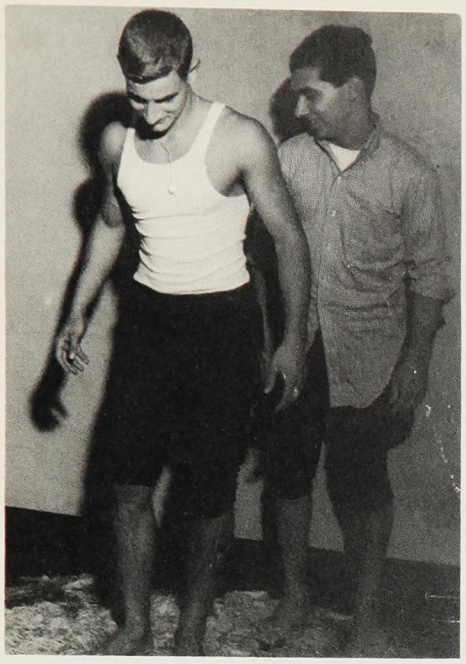
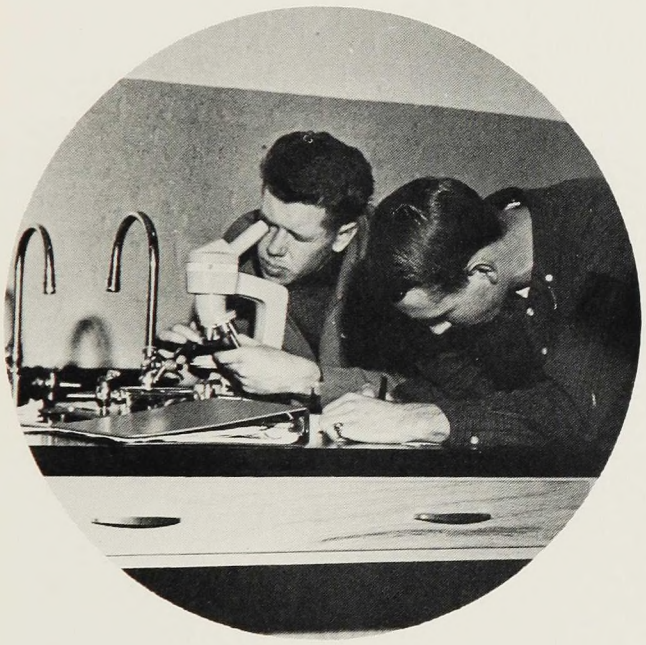
Still a relative newcomer to our campus, the class of 1965 has much to look forward to in the next years. As it approaches the half-way mark in the college experience, the Sophomore class has already added a supporting hand to Bloomfield.





EXIT



The Class of '66, the newest addition to the campus community, has brought with it the new spirit which is indicative of the new Bloomfield. The Freshman Class extends its hand in this development and joins the other classes in a hand clasp of friendship and co-operation; the co-operation which will typify Bloomfield in the future. As the largest class in the history of the college, the Class of 1966 looks forward to four years of academic and social growth within the context of a growing college community.

The Bloomfield College Student Association serves as the voice of the student body and as a liaison between the students and the administration and faculty. Under the leadership of its cabinet, the Student Association and its affiliated organizations schedule and administer the organized activities of the college. It coordinates campus organizations, oversees rules of campus conduct, allocates monies to certain groups, and concerns itself with both academic and social matters pertaining to the general welfare of the student body.

By establishing this system of shared responsibility, the association is achieving its aim, to unite Bloomfield into a democratic college community.

Choirs

For the third consecutive year, the Bloomfield College Touring Choir, consisting of approximately fifty voices and directed by Clyde J. Holt, has sung for the Synod of New Jersey and has appeared before various church groups. In addition to these weekend engagements, it has appeared on television. It is accompanied by David Periconi of Westminster Choir College and by Gerald Aulenbach of Bloomfield. In January it goes on a ten-day concert tour of nearby states. Initiated by Dr. Lester Clee and continued by Dr. Theodore Rath, the Touring Choir has done much to publicize the name of Bloomfield College. It can be heard during Senior Chapel every Wednesday.

The Freshman Choir is a newly organized group. Accompanied by Harry Stratton, a senior at the college, it appears each week in Freshman Chapel.

Rho Sigma Delta, a fraternal service organization which was founded in 1957, has as its motto "Christian Friendship-Brotherhood — Service." From this motto, its members call themselves the Adelphos, the Greek work for "Brothers." In keeping with their desire to promote the ideals of Bloomfield College, to encourage a spirit of brotherhood and to render service to the college and the student body, the Adelphos have assisted in and held numerous student activities. Under the guidance of Dougald McMillan, its advisor, Rho Sigma Delta strives for the values, direction and leadership that will encourage and exemplify the American way of life.

Both in size and frequency of publication, the Minuteman has shown greater activity this year. It reflects the high goals and policies, in accord with the principles of collegiate and professional journalism, set by Lou Caruso, its editor-in-chief, and the members of his staff.

Working in close association with the B.C.S.A. and under the guidance of Mr. Dougald McMillan and Miss Grace Donnald, faculty advisors, this year's Minuteman staff has attempted to present news which was directly or indirectly related to the college and of importance to its students.

The Catholic Club was organized to complement the existing religious organizations on campus. Introduced in 1962, the club is still in an early stage of development.

The club has invited all students interested in the Roman Catholic faith to meet and discuss its faith. By working with the other fellowships in the Religious Life Council, the Catholic Club seeks to bring a more meaningful experience to the Bloomfield College students.

The Jewish Student Organization, composed of all Jewish students on campus, stresses the importance of religious values in the character development of every human being. Its members have taken upon themselves the mission of uniting persons of the Jewish faith to further the highest interests of humanity. They strive to provide a forum on campus where all students will be afforded the opportunity to learn the moral and religious teachings of Judaism. Activities which enable their members to participate socially, both within and without the Jewish group, are encouraged. The organization has sought to fulfill its objectives through educational, charitable, and religious programs and by assisting the faculty, administration, and student body in all aspects.

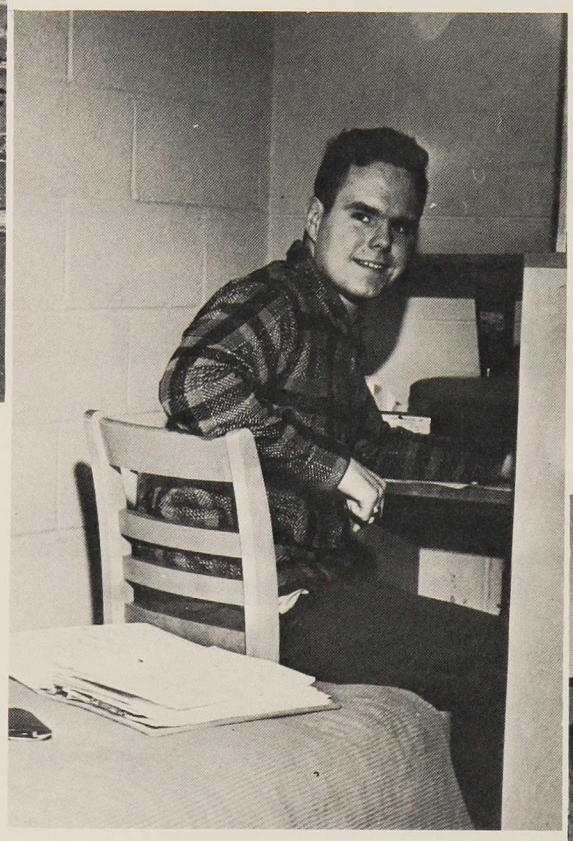
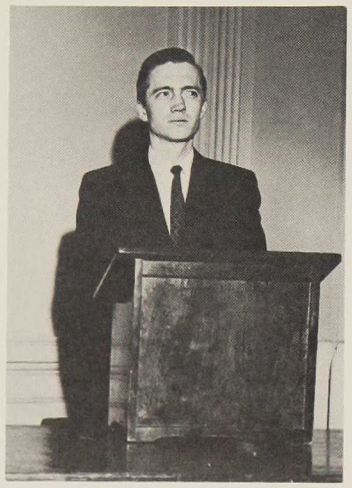
The Arts and Science Club has become the largest organization on campus since it was founded two years ago.

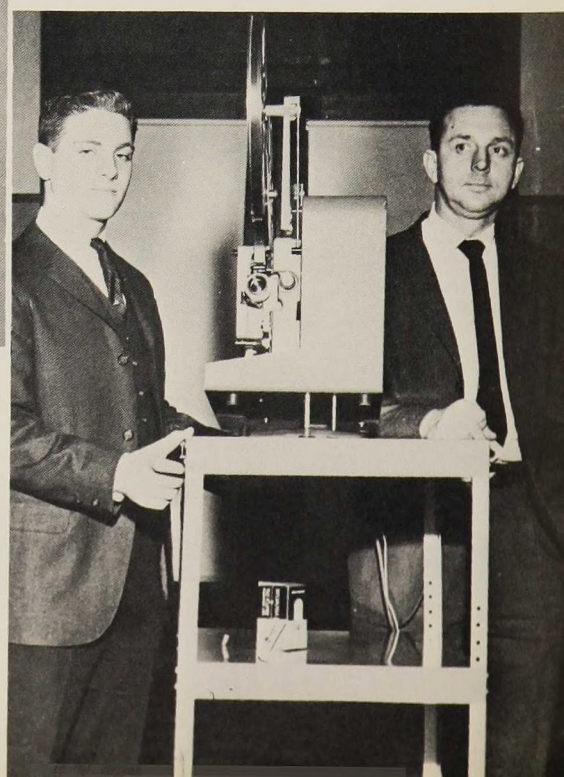
With the assistance of Mr. H. Leon Abrams, the Club has sponsored a series of well-received film programs. These films were introduced by a member of the faculty and dealt with such diverse subjects as Red China, Leonardo da Vinci, nature, Ancient Greece, Marion Anderson, World War II, religion, and Abraham Lincoln.

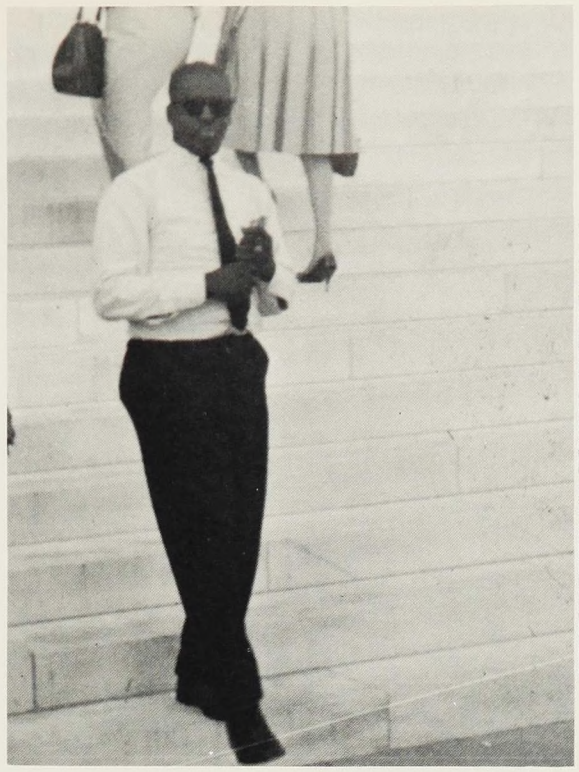
The Club also arranged discussion programs on modern art and contemporary society. The Madrigal Singers of Summit presented a concert of Renaissance music.

The members also organized a trip to New York to the American Museum of Natural History, the Hayden Planetarium, and a concert of the American Symphony.









Two days of touring the Nation's Capitol, climaxed by an evening on the town, made the Club-sponsored trip to Washington, D.C., the highlight of the year for all who participated. The students were accompanied by Mrs. Calkins, Dr. Ritchie, Dr. Pease, and Mr. Abrams.

With skiing becoming so popular, it is only natural that Bloomfield College students wanted a Ski Club.

In September initial plans were made for the club. By October the constitution had been adopted and the Ski Club was on its way to becoming an active and exciting organization on the campus.

With Mr. Douglas McMillan as advisor, the club made two weekend trips to Manchester, Vermont. Although many sore and aching muscles and one broken ski resulted from this year's skiing, the entire club is waiting impatiently for the first snow fall of the '63 season when its members can once more hit the trails.

Saga

The Saga staff began work early in the spring of 1962 and had to make numerous decisions before its final plans were complete. Choosing a theme to depict the progress of Bloomfield College was the first undertaking. Following this, the number of pages, the pages to have color applied, and the layout to be used were determined. Innumerable questions had to be resolved, all of which had a notable effect on this volume.

Many hands contributed to the completion of this annual, and now we are proud to present the results since we are confident they exemplify the admiration and the loyalty we have for Bloomfield College.

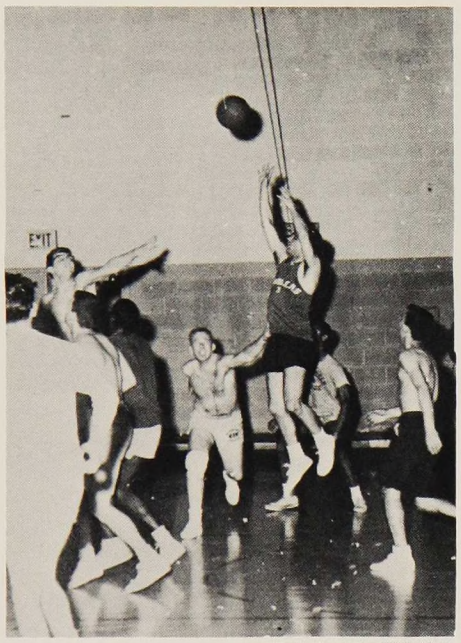
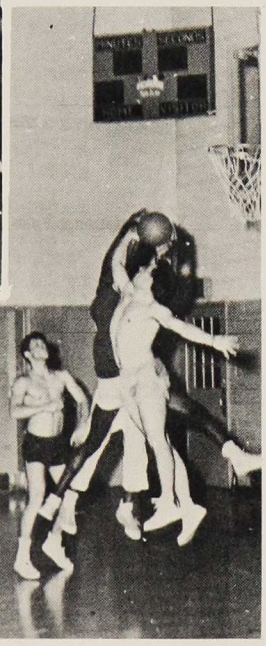
The record, which shows this year's team equalled the 500 average set last year, is not truly indicative of the tremendous overall improvement of the team. The Deacons, with prowess and high morale, had a memorable season. The players, headed by co-captains Bill McGuire and Joe Effenberger, reflected the enthusiasm of their coach, Mr. John Reeves. The up-and-down season was highlighted by fine team efforts against King's College, Fairleigh Dickinson University, and St. Peter's College.

With the experience gained this year, the Deacons should be able to boot their way to a Central Atlantic Conference championship next season.

INTRAMURAL

BASKETBALL





Intramural Basketball offers the male student an opportunity for team effort and physical exercise. The program consisted of nine teams which competed for individual trophies presented at the annual athletic banquet. Coach John Reeves and Harold Frieder were the coordinators this year.

BASKETBALL

Basketball is the major sport at Bloomfield College and this year the team enjoyed a spirited season. While helping the team to victory against Albany Pharmaceutical College, Randy Trawick, co-captain with Jim Jenkins, achieved his coveted thousandth point. The Deacons had a spectacular winning season with few losses. Under the capable guidance of Coaches Robert Nichols and Al Restaino, the team enjoyed the best season in the history of Bloomfield College and captured the Central Atlantic Conference Championship. To the hardworking coaches, the managers, and the team, we extend our congratulations for this fine season and offer wishes for continued success in the future.

BASEBALL

Under the direction of Coaches Nichols and Restaino, the baseball team completed a fine record of 11-3-1. The well-balanced pitching staff led the way, with Bob Decker, Bob Heuschkel, Rick Heuschkel, and John Gutekunst racking up an outstanding pitching record. Along with this pitching staff the savage batting of Paul Jones, Mike Bono, Bob Armbruster and Bob Decker helped to boost the Deacons' attack to many decisive victories during the season. With a fine display of skill and teamwork the Deacons finished the season with the title of Conference Champions. At the annual awards banquet five players were elected to the Conference All-Star Team.

Campus Queen

1962-63

Miss Alice L. Walnos has reigned as Campus Queen since she was crowned at the annual spring formal in May of last year. The petite, hazel-eyed sophomore is a commuter from West Orange. The Queen's court includes Miss Betsy Corbett, a junior, and Miss Cindy Chandler, a senior. Each spring the Student Association selects the Queen and her attendants from the co-eds nominated by each class.

IN APPRECIATION

Publishing an annual such as the Saga 1963 has meant sacrifice and dedication on the part of many people. As editor-in-chief, I have been fortunate to have the cooperation of people who possessed the talent and the imagination to create this book. I would like to express my appreciation to the following:

Lynn Klinefelter: whose top-rate knowledge of editorial techniques and sense of creative photography enabled us to put together this annual.

Rice Bullock: who undauntedly ran the errands and attended the meetings that no one else had time for.

Bill Hayes and Sab La Sapio: whose suggestions resulted in the addition of the feature section.

Jay Eichelberger and Fred Wood: who edited our athletic section.

Alina Diaz: who, with talent and willingness, met the editor's demands for impressive division pages.

Pat Patti and friends: who proofread and typed the final copy.

Abe Altschule: who efficiently organized a fine sales staff and balanced the budget.

Bernard Lazerwitz: who kept our financial records.

Mr. Leon Abrams: whose advice was always available in time of need.

Mr. Roger Erickson: who served as our advisor.

Mr. James Ivey and Mr. Timmy Del Vescovo: who watchfully guided the development of our annual.

And to all who were responsible for the content of the 1963 Saga.
